We were just preparing to settle down into the very antipodes of agitation. The smoke of the conflict was dying away, and the dove of peace was smoothing her wings, when, last evening, this beatific vision half mjoyed, was disturbed by that inevitable colored research. evening, this beatific vision half enjoyed, was disturbed by that inevitable colored person, in the shape of a ginger-hued damsel of twenty, dragged in by Jake Newsome. Jake has seat tered our small millenium, and set matters all afloat again. Are we never to be happy say more? Will not the American Eagle get upon his perch and stay there? his perch and stay there?

Here is how it was: Scene, a dance at an establishment where ebony and ivory are the staples, on South Clark street. Enter Jake for Jake carries his fives straight from the shoulder and knows his own knuckles, besides which on this occasion, one Stephen Knuckle of Nebraska City had a hand in the business a perhaps brass knuckles was of the party. As when upon the immates of a dovecote swoops the hungry hawk (and neither of the birds samed are flattered by this figure,) so descend-tific Newsonn's knuckles and the city Inuckle upon the chattel named Rina. Jake keld out the American Eagle and saked Eliza if she wanted to destroy the Union, wanted to see our flag rent in twain and a large tariff on Connecticut clocks and buttons imported into South Carolina.

Eliza was obdurate, and cut her old acquair-tunce, Mr. Knuckles, of Nebraska City, dead, she, however, was induced to come along, and the trio proceeded up South Clark street, Eliza between, and set round with knuckles like a tit of chony set in garnets, which latter tin handsomely on most, tolerably white complexims. But the ebony began to be too much inn. But the every began to be recently for the garnets—altogether out of propertion, is fact, and pretty soon Jake Newsons, and the chattel Eliza, and Nebraska Knuckies, came to a stand still in a literally "dark and came to a stand still in a literally "dark and came to a stand still in a literally "dark and came to a stand still in a literally a standard still in a literally "dark and said said as a standard still in a literally a standard still in a literally a standard still in a literally standard standard still in a literally standard stan aagsy sea," dark much, and getting angry fat. Or course it was very ridiculous in them.—Why not leave such things to Garibaldi over the water? Jake Newsome showed us the warrant, made out in due form, by U. S. Commissioner Corneau, of Springfield, for the arrest of this Eliza, a fugitive from this Knuckies, at Nebraska City, some two years ago, and called our attention to the fact that when the regular force of U. While we were writing the above, a calamity, the very twin constellation of the "Southern Cross," the resignation of Senator Toombs, has befallen the country. The chattel Elias has escaped. It took place about half past ten o'clock last night. A warrant was served by Deputy Sheriff Anderson on Eliza, to take her from the lock-up to jail, and he started, but he might as well have tried to tow the "Maile of might as well have tried to tow the "Maid of counties, which foots up 22,063 for Lincoln and 30 for Douglas. MADISON, Wis., Nov. 10, 1860.

Sufficient returns have been received here to enable us to figure up the results of the con-test last Tuesday. Our majority for the noble son of the Northwest will not fall much short of 20,000. Potter in the 1st District has over 2,500 for Congress; Hauchett in the 1Id will have 10,000 or over, and Sloan scoops out Lar-rabee by about 4000.

[From the New York Times.]

The following, written for New York, applies with great force to Chicago. It derives great additional interest from the occurrence of the terrible catastrophe which shocked our efficient only a day or two since:

The causes of boiler explosions have been so thoroughly investigated within a few years, that the only safe and restonding ground to take about them is that they are seen accidental-that they can discept be prevented—that they are, in fact, nothing more not less than bad miterial, maleous truction, or reclassions management. that such rights would contribute to essentially to the public weal, women have, in some of the States, been allowed to acquire and hold property during coverture the same as though size. The Legislature of New York, at its last session, not simply from motives of policy, but from an enlarged sense of justice, granted the right to acquire and hold, as well as to alien and devise property subject to judicious guards, intended to accure the mutual good of those united in the family relation. To this was added the right to protect person and reputation, and a joint right of guardianship over children.

One of her able jurists declared that no State had ever taken so bold a step at once; yet it was demanded by the necessities of the times, and the public scoliment of the age. While gambling and drunkenness go almost unrebuked by law, every father who has daughters, feels that they need fuller protection in the enjoyment of the obvious right of life, liberty and happiness. The good husband and wife will never inquire in regard to their legal relations; their mutual love will raise them above their level. But the unfaithful and debauched mass will find a salutary check is the restoration of the wife was a now offen beater and half-staved by a musband who may legally rob her storations of acceptible mee, and to make the wife was a now offen beater and half-staved by a musband who may legally rob her storations of acceptible mee, and to make the wife was a now offen beater and half-staved by a musband who may legally rob her.

A CURIORITY.—We have been shown a great curiosity in the shape of a couple of apples, about the size of a plum, which have grown from the biossom since the first of. October. They are from the farm of J. D. Thompson, Esq., in the town of Madison.—Adrian Experient, Nov. 8. To the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Illinois:

We, the undersigned, inhabitants of the State of Illinois most earnestly petition your honorable body, that such laws may be enacted that the parents of children may have rights of guardianehip, and that no difference be made on account of sex. We also further petition, that married women have granted them the right to acquire and hold property in their own name, and to transfer and devise the same. As well as to protect their own character by law and recover in their own name for personal injuries.

To each family of emigrants fire carrenux of fresh and fertile land, capable of growing all the fruits and staples of the tropics, will be granically arreng on the poly conditions that they shall stitle on it, and cultivate it, and declare their intention of becoming citizens of Hayti. To unmarried men, on aimina conditions, two carreaux will be granted.

The Government, also, will find remunerative work for those of you whose means will not permit them to begin immediately an independent cultivation.

Ensignants are invited to settle in communities.

Sites for the erection of schools and chapels will be donated by the State, without regard to the religious belief of the emigrants.

Board and lodging, free of cost, will be furnished to the emigrants for eight days after their arrival in the island.

The anne protection and civil rights that the laws give to Haytims are solemnly guaranteed to the emigrants.

The fallest religious liberty will be scurred to them. They will never be called on to support the Roman Catholic Church.

No military service will be demanded from them, excepting that they shall form militia companies, and drill themselves once a month. All the necessary personal effects, machinery, and agricultural instruments introduced by the emigrants shall be an ilberty to leave the country at any moment they please; but those whose passage shall be paid by Government, if they wish to return before the expiration of three years, will be required to refund the money expended on their account. A contract, fixing the amount, will be made with each emigrant before leaving the Continent.

A contract, Bully the continent.

I have been commissioned to superintend the interests of the emigrants, and charged with the entire control of the movement in America, and all persons, therefore, desiring to avail themselves of the invitation and bounty of the Haytian Government, are requested to correspond with me.

I shall at once, as directed by the Government, establishs a Bureau of Emigration in Boston, and publishs a Guide Book for the use of those persons of African or Indian descent who may wish to make themselves sequainted with the resources of the country, and the disposition of its authorities. I shall also appoint agents to visit such communities as may seriously entertain the project of emigration. Immediate arrangements, both here and in Hayti, can be made for the embarkment and settlement of one hundred thousand persons. By authority of the Government of the Republic of Hayti,

The Paris correspondent of the Independence Beige says:

It is alleged that the French Emperor has addressed an antograph letter to the Emperor Alexander, expressing his surprise at the distruct of him which the meeting of the sovereigns at Warsaw would seem to imply, and protesting his devotion to the cause of order and conservatism. I shall not affirm that a letter of this kind has been actually written, but I have positive information that language of this import was used both by the Emperor and M. Thouvenel to M. de Kisseleff, before the latter left Paris. His Majesty is said to have added that, in any case, he did not fear the coalition, but that he would not believe in it. It is reported, at the same time, that the Emperor asked Lord Palmerston to come to Paris, in order to arrives an explicit and definite understanding as to the means of consolidating the Anglo-French alliance. Finally, it is said that M. Cavour has asked for information from the French Cabinet, as to the meaning of the formidable military preparations and the recent strategic movements of Austria, and that he received for answers that these military demonstrations had no aggressive meaning. The Frince, I believe, for the first time during his wist to the United States, accepted an invitation to a decement at the manation of a private edition, and after having feasted his year non some very pritty somery, he at length entered the trily charming demesne of Mr. R. B. Bowler, one of the oldest and most cuterprising chizens of Cincinnati. Mr. Bowler's estate comprises about 300 acres (within a ring fenne, as we should say in England,) and the matural consemnation of the ground in such as well as the series of the ground in such as well as the series of the ground in such as well as the series of the ground in such as well as the series of the granteners of this or the last century.

Mr. nowman's oponyos and november of the interest content of this or the last century.

There is a great variety of hill and dale in the extensive grounds, and the art, of the land-cape gradener has been amployed with admirable cificd in improving and embellishing the great natural beauties of the place. The manion is quite unique in its style of architecture; at least I should suppose so. The owner possesses both wealth and a taste for the classic, which he is enabled to indulge to his heart's content. the Frince and the illustrious visitors. The fruit, the appless years and peaches, were perfect pictures. It would, perhaps, have been in keeping with the style of the apartment, had the entertainment been given after the manner of the ancients; but Air. Bowler, no doubt, remembered the result of the classic feast so admirably described by Smollett, in "Roderick Bandom," and thought the Prince of Walcs would prefer the modern dipuner data four-thete-to-the gorgeons though gross fashion of the epicures of Rome. Great justice was done to the splendid refection, and I may be allowed to mention that his royal highness took a particular fancy to the delicious peaches. After the lunch Mr. Bowlershowed his royal and distinguished guests over the mansion, through the beautiful green houses, one of which is designed as a grotto, with perforsted and rugged walls and arches of grey rock, stalectifes hanging from the roof, a foundain playing, and the water trickling over the rock, making delicious musle; and the rarest ferms, pole efficiently and the state of the recent of the control of the con

A splendid lunch was laid out here. The long central stable shone resplendent with gold plate, and sieh primitals and boquets of flowers in superb and classic vaces of brass and chony and of exquisite Severes chian, gave additional beauty to the tempting scene. All the delicacies of the season were provided for the Prince and the illustrious visitors. The fruit, the apples, pears and peaches, were per-

England and Ireland in Italy. Our Irish fellow-citizens owe the Pope also mendicant Bishops a scurvy debt for titlude into which they have seduced the Irecple on the great cotemporary question Italy.

Thanks to the stolld obstinacy of the Roman Pontifi, and to the reckless or venal misrepresentations of his hierarchy, the Irish name will go down to posterity disgraced with the double stain of a mercenary attempt to win fame and the other recovering of Italian Procedum, and of ignominious failure in that attempt. The orld will hardly know which most to dese, the odious spectacle of Irishmen embarl world will hardly know which most to despise, the odious spectacle of Irishmen embarking in suits of green and sliver to do the dirty work of a tyrmuty repudiated even by the hird-lings of Switzerland, or the pittful spectacle of the same Irishmen surrendering with scarcely a blow struck in hattle, at their first shock against the indignant derinders of the Italian soil. It is now established, beyond a peradventure, that the "Legion of St. Patrick" in the Romagnas, richly merited the compliment addressed to another famous body of volunteers, and showed themsolves indeed "soldiers in peace, in war clitzens." They robbed the peasantry on their marches, drew their weapons on their commander into tracking them like so many refructory Arabs, and then when they came within reach of the soldiers of Cialdini, ilterally threw down their arms and begged for quarter, which was granted to them

BAGS AND PAPER, dini, literally threw down their arms and begred for quarter, which was granted to them with the most insulting indifference by their conquerors.

All this was bad enough, and not easily to be borne by the countrymen of Sarsfield, who dispute Wellington with England, and MacManon with France. But how much more poignant does the lesson become when the story of the Irish of Lamoriclers is contrasted with the conduct of the English of Garibaldi. It cannot be pleasant for the most orthodox of Citis to think of the figure cut by his brother Ceits at Castel-Fidardo; but how is he to endure for a moment the rival spectacle of the Saxons at the Yofturno.

England sem her yolunteers to Italy as well as Ireland. There were no priestly benedletions pronounced, no invocations of history uttered over the one, as there were over the other. The Englishmen went to Italy under the ban of His Holiness, and in the test of the hunders of the Vattens. The Irishmen styled themselves Crussders, and paraded the keys of St. Peter on their peagreen basiners. But the Englishmen went to help an injured and outgreed people in the great Armaged doon of Liberty; and when the time of battle came, they should be popular here, not of one race only but of all free tongues and free hearts the world over. Perhaps it is not wholly discrediable to the Irish martyrs of Castel-Fidar-do" that they preferred surrendes on the field and a pacific ejection from the camp of the viccious Italian army, to elaying their fellowers at the temper of Diogeaus, but, on the contrary, have been rather remarkable in his tory for the decent value they profer the profits here they profer the profits have never shown exactly the temper of Diogeaus, but, on the contrary, have been rather remarkable in his tory for the decent value they prid on the good opinion of their dollar they not be altogether. Warsaw Oct. 20.—It is stated that the Warsaw interview maintained to the last a parely personal character as regards both the Frinces and their Ministers. At the interview on this day, as stipulation was made. No convention of any kind was concluded, nor even a protected that the Austrian envoy had notified the Emperor that unless the warlike preparations of Piedmont were discontinued, and the Hungarian legion disbanded. Austrawould immediately commence heatilities. Five hundred of the Irish Papa brigade had passed through France, en routs for Ireland.

Judicial proceedings have been Instituted against the "Opinious Nationale," for the publication of faise news.

The London Dully Ness of the Sist, says the Emperor of the French has placed four ships of the line before Gasta, with orders to prevent an attack on the fortress by Admiral Person, and if necessary to such his ships. Under these circumstances, Admiral Person, will take no part in the approaching siege of Gasta. The New denounces this as direct intervention by France, and says Europe must not be allowed to remain a victim to all this mystery and repeated surprises.

Victor Emanuel was to remained the work of the suthority of an official dispatch, that Victor Emanuel was to immediately bombard Gasta by sea and land. Capus had been definitely occupied by Garlbaid's troops.

It was reported that King Victor Emanuel would confer on Garlbaid its troops.

It was reported that King Victor Emanuel would confer on Garlbaid its bettle of Prince Caladrao, with an income of Stool livres, and would decorate him with the Order of the Annuclation.

LATEST.—The Paris Press asserts that the Sovereigns at Warsaw united in promising assistance to Austrial' if she were attacked by Pledmont.

Chira-China mails are not yet received, but the following details have come to hand of the taking of the Taku forts. The northern forts we CANAL FRESSITS—Steady r the benefit of the currency mangers. Of course creacy is accumulating.

THE STOCK MARKET.—The telegraph brings us naws of what is almost a panic in the New York Stock market. The excitement is caused by the stititude which the Southern Hotspurs are assuming on account of the election of Mr. Lincoln to the Presidency. Our own financiers are perfectly cool, and a noticeable fact is that some of our sharpest capitalists, and Democrats at that, are larger buyers. The lower the stocks go the more money have they to invest. Let the howl go on.

RETURNATH.—George Smith, Eng., who for nearly if not quite a quarter of a centary, has been the leading banker of the Northwest, returned to the city least week after an absence of some four years in his native Scotland. He will remain with us for several months to come.

Naples.—Turin, Friday.—Admiral Persano has commenced and suspended firing on the Royalists near Gaeta. The news of a mysterious expedition under Gen. Jarr has been declared a pure invention.
Lindon, Friday.—The correspondent of the Tunes at Vienna, supplies information as to what gassed at the Conference. The monarchs and their ministers had several interviews, but did little more than exchange opinions concerning the state of Europe. A Convention was drawn up but not signed, because the sovereigns and their ministers could not come to an understanding on several matters of importance. Gortschakoff failed to convince the Russian and Austrian statesmen that it would be advantageous to all parties if the treaty of March, 1866, was subjected to a revision. Russia is exceedingly desirous of regaining her position on the Dannbe and doing away with the neutrality of the Black Bea. It is reported that Gortschakoff and Richberg had an altercation at the very first interview.
Poland.—The Poles disphyed such a disloyal spirit while Alexander was at Warsaw, that His Majesty was unable to conceal the vexition he felt.

Mr. Oliver hvored, the earliest day. He objected to keeping candidates here on large expense.

Mr. Jones urged the greatest delay. He regarded the present a time for deliberation, and they need all the light that could be obtained before acting. A few weeks might develope important matters that ought to be known before the election.

Mr. Spanding favored the postponement two weeks. He didn't believe in endorsing so early lineon's election. There were measures more important to the Legislature. Retails tory legislation claimed precedence over the election of a Senator.

Mr. Seward favored the postponement. He was opposed to doing anything so early to indicate that Georgia intended to submit to Lincoln's election.

Mr. Harris inquired whether Mr. Seward favored secession if Georgia so decided in convention. He thought Georgia would not be sustained by other Southern States by thus indicating her willingness to submit to Lincoln's election. He considered it a safety to the South to act as a unit.

THE SECESSION MOVEMENT.

[Special Dispatch to the New Tork Tribune.]

WASHINGTON, Friday, Nev. 9, 1860.

THE EFFECT AT WASHINGTON.

The President is still in doubt what to do.
He is aprehensive of troubles in the South, but does not know how to meet them. His feelings are with the South, but he is afraid to nasist them openly.

Nothing definite is known of the Cabinet meeting to-day, as the intention of the Administration is to swait the development of disunionism. Mr. Buchanan still hopes that there will be no disunion before the 4th of next Misrch, as also does Gen. Cass.

A large quantity of arms was yesterday shipped from our sreenal to the South. But the piace of destination remains a secret.

The proclamation of Gov. Brown of Georgia has created much excitement. It is the most unconstitutional manifesto ever published in the United States, and it depends now upon the President whether he will, use his antitority and enforce the laws of the United States.

Several clerks in the Departments presided over by Messrs. Howell Cobb, and Jacob Thompson, have resigned in order to please their superiors, the resignation to take place on the 8th of March.

It is positively stated, that Messrs. Cobb and Thompson will resign under similar conditions.

The city is quiet. There are plenty of office-

Assertion—Denial.

CENCENTATE, Nov. 12.—This morning's Commercial says that Breckinridge has determined to make a trip to the Cotton States to address his fellow citizens, urging them to abide in the Union. his fellow citizens, urging them to assist in the Union.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 12.—The rumor that Vice President Breckinridge is going South to make Union speeches or interfere in any manner whatever with the troubles of the secesionists, is without foundation.

A meeting of the Bell and Douglas parties was held here to-day. Resolutions were passed denouncing in strong terms any attempts at secession or dismin by any State. Speeches were made by Leslie Combs and others.

What Alabama is Boing.

Morrocazar, Ala, Nov. 10.—The military companies of this city, fully armed and equipped, tendered their services to the Governor. Our citizens are all unanimous for disunion. A plan for secession will be organized this week.

The Governor, Supreme Court Judges, Circuit Judges, both of the Senators, and all of the Congaesamen, sive one, are for disunion. The city of Mobile will be against escession, but nine-tenths of the country districts are for disunion. The minute men are organizing. The city of Mobile will be against secession, but nine-tenths of the country districts are for disunion. The minute men are organizing, and will have 30,000 members enrolled by the last of Jannary. A meeting of the ieading politicians of the State, of all parties, has just been held, and resolved to insist on an immediate Convention. The citizens indorse the action of their leaders.

From Virginia.

Richarder, Va., Nov. 12.—The affairs of the South attract much attention here, and the people are eaimly awaiting the issue. Meetings will probably be held in all the different connies of the State before the Legislature meets, for an expression of public opinion. The vote of the State is as yet unaccrained. Both parties figure out majorities. Several counties are yet to be heare from.

Charitarson, S. C., Nov. 7, 1800.

Lincoln's election will lead to attempts at secession, but I am convinced that they will not be supported by the majority of the people, even in the State of South Carolina. In some respects the consequences of the movement here, if it should be pushed too far, must have an evil not to anya dangerous tendency.

There is one element in Charleston which I have never been able to regard with confidence. This is the free blacks. Many of them are educated. Some of them are rich; their families well educated, besuifful, intelligent; but they have no rights. One family I have long known, named Bursef; the old man is about 60 years old; his hair as white as the driven snow; his daughters are educated, and beautiful; his sons are well educated; and jet, if one of those daughters wears a veil over her face, the first policeman will strip it off, for that is only a privilege accorded to the white girl, with no negro blood in her veins.

If found after the 9 o'clock bell rings, without a pass from a white man, old Dursef or any of his family, though worth $200,000, will be locked up in a guard-house until his or her white guardian come and pay the fine in the morning. There are hundreds of such in the city of Charleston. They own slaves, some of them, eithough they are slaves. This is a large clear. ** harleston. The Courier is forced by circumstances to go with the surface current. It circulates about 3,000 daily. It is owned by A. S. Wellington & Co., men who are marked A A A in the books of commercial reference. The working editor is supposed to be Mr. Carlisle, an amisble, talented young man. The owner don't believe a bit in disunion—never did—never will. At present they run with the current. There is another paper in this city, edited by Mr. Cunningham, a gentleman who was a delegate from South Carolina to the famous American Convention in Philadelphia in 1856. It is an evening paper, called the Ness, and has 100 to 130 circulation.
